

“Tranquil and Relaxed Inn in a Fantastic Location”

Posada de Rosas

TripAdvisor Popularity Index: #1 of 8 B&Bs in Mendoza

“Wonderful, Private Posado”

skimom1

denver

Feb 3, 2009

We visited Mendoza at the end of September, 2008. Posada de Rosas was a wonderful break away from a very hectic lifestyle! The staff was fantastic! Our room was spacious and clean, and quiet! Breakfast was great and we appreciated the flexibility of the staff in adjusting their serving time based on our schedule. The owners were very interesting and well traveled. They offered many great suggestions on what to do while we were there. We also booked a private tour of the Andes through them and really enjoyed our day with our guide, Julio!

- This TripAdvisor Member:
 - Liked — The staff
 - Disliked — can't think of anything

piclyo

Oregon

Jan 2, 2009

1/1 found this review helpful

We've just completed a four day stay at Posada de Rosas, a delightful find and quiet refuge close to the center of Mendoza. Originally, we had booked for one night, which stretched to two, then four as we unwound in the wonderful ambiance of this place. There are too many highlights to mention: a wonderful garden with an intimate pool to cool you off after a long walk through the city park; touches of understated elegance; all the comforts that you might hope for (and many you wouldn't think of) and hosts (Ricardo y Ellen) who know how to be available and how to give you plenty of space. The service here has been wonderful; the conversation with other guests provocative. Everything you might need in Mendoza is within close walking distance and Ricardo and Ellen will arrange any and all details/directions you might need. Better yet, they'll share interesting insights and stories with you that will plant seeds for future travel adventures. We have traveled all over this globe and Posada de Rosas makes our top ten list!! One other note, this is one of the few spots in Argentina where the website is a fair and accurate reflection of where you will stay...what you see is what you'll find.

- This TripAdvisor Member:

- Liked — Quiet elegance, great garden, fine hosts

Nancylp222

wisconsin

Nov 24, 2008

My daughter and I just returned from 3 wonderful days at the Posada de Rosas. This is truly a little gem located in a residential area and very walkable to everything in Mendoza. The rooms are very well appointed. We stayed in both a studio and a room in the main house. Both were very clean with comfortable beds and very nice new bathrooms. The gardens are beautiful and the pool area very relaxing. The continental breakfast was an excellent way to start our day. It was wonderful to have people to ask about the local attractions and restaurants and we took their advice, were never sorry and they made all of our reservations for us. We found this little jewel of an inn on line and after looking at the web site decided to give it a try. It is every bit as beautiful as the web site. The owners are friendly, knowledgeable and very helpful and we would highly recommend Posada de Rosas.

- This TripAdvisor Member:

- Liked — The location, the information we got from the owners re activities and the atmosphere
- Disliked — nothing

This review is the subjective opinion of a TripAdvisor member and not of TripAdvisor LLC.

Nancylp222's Summary

Date of Stay: November 2008

Traveled with: Family with teenagers

Visit was for: Quality time with family

Age group: 50-64

Member since: November 24, 2008

Would I recommend this hotel to my best friend?

absolutely!

I recommend this hotel for:

An amazing honeymoon, A romantic getaway, Girlfriend getaway, People with disabilities, Older travelers, Pet owners, Families with young children, Families with teenagers, Tourists
"Perfect little hotel"

skibbo

Philadelphia

Nov 21, 2008

The Posada de Rosas is on a residential street just a little ways from the center of things in Mendoza. It has a gorgeous and peaceful garden, a cute little swimming pool, and nice rooms complete with kitchenettes. We would recommend it to anyone even without what turned out to be an inexhaustible stream of good advice from Ellen and Ricardo, the American owners. They have explored Mendoza from top to bottom and filled our six day trip with specialized wine tours, a trip to the Andes, excellent restaurant recommendations, and the highlight, a cooking class on Argentinian bbq with a local chef (which turned out to be more of a lesson on the Argentinian lifestyle). We highly recommend the Posada, and their tour company: amazingmendoza.com.

This review is the subjective opinion of a TripAdvisor member and not of TripAdvisor LLC.

skibbo's Summary

Date of Stay: October 2008

Traveled with: Spouse / significant other

Visit was for: Honeymoon

Age group: 25-34

Member since: November 21, 2008

Would I recommend this hotel to my best friend?
absolutely!

I recommend this hotel for:

An amazing honeymoon, A romantic getaway, Girlfriend getaway, Families with young children, Families with teenagers, Tourists

I do not recommend this hotel for:

Young singles, Great pool scene

I selected this hotel as a top choice for:

Great food / Wine

“Wonderful place in Mendoza”

digsydi

London

Oct 20, 2008

Had a fantastic time at Posada de Roses in March this year.

Large, clean and comfortable rooms (we stayed in one of the rooms inside the house), fantastic garden with swimming pool, and a very convenient location only a 10 minute walk into town.

The staff are exceptionally friendly and helpful and will arrange all sort of trips and tours for you if you wish, while Ellen and Riccardo are wonderful hosts, full of information and recommendations.

A really lovely place to stay in Mendoza.

- This TripAdvisor Member:
 - Liked — rooms, location and staff

This review is the subjective opinion of a TripAdvisor member and not of TripAdvisor LLC.
digsydi's Summary

Date of Stay: March 2008

Traveled with: Spouse / significant other

Visit was for: Personal event (wedding, ...)

Age group: 25-34

Member since: March 25, 2008

Would I recommend this hotel to my best friend?
absolutely!

I recommend this hotel for:

A romantic getaway, Girlfriend getaway, Older travelers, Tourists

I do not recommend this hotel for:

Young singles, Pet owners

I selected this hotel as a top choice for:

Outdoor / Adventure, Great food / Wine

“Simply Fantastic”

rcalmon

New York

Oct 17, 2008

Looking for a break from BA, my girlfriend and I stumbled across this B&B and decided to book a few nights.

Beautiful courtyard. Incredibly friendly, helpful, English-speaking staff. Clean, spacious rooms with wifi. Good breakfast. Only a few minutes walk to the city center.

Would not stay anywhere else!

- This TripAdvisor Member:
 - Liked — Staff
 - Disliked — N/A

This review is the subjective opinion of a TripAdvisor member and not of TripAdvisor LLC.
rcalmon's Summary

Date of Stay: October 2008

Traveled with: Spouse / significant other

Visit was for: Romantic getaway

Age group: 25-34

Member since: October 17, 2008

Would I recommend this hotel to my best friend?
absolutely!

I recommend this hotel for:

A romantic getaway, Girlfriend getaway, People with disabilities, Older travelers, Tourists

I do not recommend this hotel for:

Young singles

I selected this hotel as a top choice for:

Outdoor / Adventure, Great food / Wine

““We Loved the Posada””

RovingE

Washington DC

Aug 3, 2008

We loved our stay in this charming "boutique"inn, The peace and quiet of the garden, the refreshing pool and relaxing on the patio provided restful balance to winery tours, a spectacular Andes trip, art museums and other activities.

Our studio room had very comfortable beds, bath and furnishings, a small refrigerator & kitchenette. The nighttime quiet was delicious, breakfast was great and the local staff warm and helpful.

Posada owner/hosts Ellen Hoffman (free-lance writer) and Ricardo Accurso (jeweler,designer, artist and more) are lovely people, fluent in Spanish,with excellent suggestions for dining and other activities. They also provide customized winery and other tours through their "Amazing Mendoza Tours" (www.amazingmendoza.com). (We recommend these as well.)

The Posada's location in a quiet residential district was just a 10-minute walk down tree-lined streets to the center of Mendoza, its Independence Plaza., the beautiful Plaza Espana and other sights.. We enjoyed walking through this neighborhood with small local food and other stores, different housing styles and gardens, seeing how Mendozans live. It made us feel more part of the city--less like "gringo" turistas.

We also walked to excellent restaurants. Our first night we sat outside opposite a lovely small park, ate and drank very well and enjoyed the families with kids playing in the park (quietly) until 10 pm. Local diners were still coming in at that hour.

We certainly recommend the Posada!

- This TripAdvisor Member:
 - Liked — Peaceful, lovely "home away from home" experience of a different culture..